HOCKEY HALL OF FAME ANNOUNCES 2024 INDUCTEES

TORONTO (June 25, 2024) – Mike Gartner, Chair of the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee, announced today that seven individuals have been elected to Hockey Hall of Fame Honoured Membership, in both the Player and Builder Category. The vote took place today at the annual meeting of the Selection Committee in Toronto.

“The Hockey Hall of Fame is proud to welcome these hockey legends as Honoured Members,” said Gartner. “Their contributions to the game of hockey are well documented and their election to the Hockey Hall of Fame is richly deserved.”

In the Builder Category, two individuals were elected.

Hockey has been Colin Campbell’s life for the past 52 years: as a player, coach, and for the last 25 years as Senior Executive Vice President at the NHL’s Hockey Operations, Officiating, and Central Scouting departments. Raised in Tillsonburg, ON, Colin has been involved in all facets of the game, including winning a Stanley Cup in 1994 as associate coach of the New York Rangers.

“I’ve experienced a lot in my hockey career,” said Campbell. “And this is one of the best.”

After his playing career, David Poile began his journey as an NHL executive with the Atlanta Flames in 1972. He moved with the Flames to Calgary for two seasons before being named the General Manager of the Washington Capitals in 1982, a job he held for 15 seasons. In 1997, David moved to Nashville as GM, a position he held until 2023. A member of the USA Hockey Hall of Fame, he is also the winningest and longest-tenured GM in NHL history.

“I’m happy for my family and for the life I have been able to live through hockey,” said Poile. “Thanks to the Selection Committee for this tremendous honour.”

In the Player Category, five individuals were elected.

A native of Saint Paul, Minnesota, Natalie Darwitz played for Eagan H.S. before joining the University of Minnesota Golden Gophers in 2002. She led the Gophers to a national championship over Harvard in 2005, scoring the winning goal. Internationally, she played for the United States at the 2002, 2006 and 2010 Olympic Games. Natalie also represented her country in eight world championships, winning Best Forward in 2008.

“This is an unbelievable honour, and I am grateful to be inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame,” said Darwitz. “I grew up playing the sport I love and to be included among the greats of the game is beyond my expectations. Thank you to everyone who made an impact on my career, from my family, coaches, teammates and friends.”

Pavel Datsyuk was born in Sverdlovsk, Russia on July 20, 1978. After first playing in Russia, he joined the Detroit Red Wings in 2001 and played 14 NHL seasons, scoring 314 goals and 604 assists in 953 games. A four-time Lady Byng Trophy winner, he also won Stanley Cups with Detroit in 2002 and 2008. “I have been lucky in my hockey life to this point,” said Datsyuk. “I would like to thank all of the people who have helped me along my way.”

Jeremy Roenick was born in Boston, Massachusetts, and went from Thayer Academy to the Hull Olympiques of the QMJHL. In 1988, he made the jump to the NHL with the Chicago Blackhawks, where he played eight seasons before moving to the Phoenix Coyotes. In his 20 NHL seasons he played for five different teams. Jeremy finished his career as the second-highest American born goal scorer in NHL history. By the time he retired in 2008-09, Jeremy was the third-highest American born goal scorer in NHL history (behind Mike Modano and Keith Tkachuk).

“I’m so happy, I can’t thank everyone who was behind this honour enough,” said Roenick. “I’m at a loss for words and I’m never at a loss for words. Getting over this last hockey hurdle means so much to me.”

Born in Sicamous, British Columbia, Shea Weber starred for the Kelowna Rockets of the WHL, winning a Memorial Cup in 2004. After his junior career he turned pro with the Nashville Predators in 2006 and was team captain for six seasons. In international play, he won gold with Canada at the Olympics in 2010 and 2014. Overall, Shea is a member of one of hockey’s most select clubs winning the Western Hockey League Championship twice, a Memorial Cup, World Juniors, World Championships and the Olympics.

“What an honour; congratulations to the entire class,” said Weber. “It’s shocking, and to know of the great names and legends who have been inducted before me, is inspiring.”
